

About Jack E. Myers

Since founding the Myers Development Company, Jack E. Myers has developed an extensive portfolio of Hawai'i and California commercial, residential, hospitality, and industrial properties aggregating in excess of $1.7 billion. This has included nearly 1.9 million square feet of office buildings, mixed-use projects, resort and recreational projects, and over 2,500 units of residential inventory. He has also played a large role in helping to shape Honolulu's skyline with such iconic buildings as the First Hawaiian Center, Hawaii Prince Hotel, and One Archer Lane to name a few. Jack is a 1970 graduate of the Shidler College of Business and a 1998 inductee into the Hall of Honor. Jack and his wife, Zelig, created the Jack and Zelig Myers Endowed Scholarship Fund in 2007 to support the best and brightest students at Shidler.
